Oilfast UK is committed to Going Green

Renewable Diesel Hydrotreated Vegetable Oil (HVO) is a premium fossil free diesel product made of 100% renewable raw materials, which does not release any new carbon dioxide into the atmosphere. It is produced by hydrotreatment of vegetable oils and/or animal fats. A more sustainable, high quality diesel fuel, that is suitable for all diesel-powered vehicles and industrial powered generators. HVO fuel from Oilfast can reduce CO₂ emissions by up to 90%, compared with conventional diesel.

What is HVO?

Hydrotreated Vegetable Oil or HVO is a biofuel made from waste, such as animal fat or processed vegetable oils. They use a specialist method of hydrotreatment to turn it into a biofuel. Due to how it's made, HVO is classed as renewable diesel and renowned for having a longer shelf life than other biodiesels.

Oilfast UK's HVO is almost identical to traditional fossil fuel diesel. It can be used as a fossil fuel alternative without upgrading your companies infrastructure or cleaning out existing stock. The transition from fossil fuels, like red diesel, to our HVO is seamless; simply order, top-up and go! However, whilst similar to regular diesel in terms of energy content, density, viscosity and flashpoint. Our sustainable replacement presents many benefits over fossil fuels.

- Commercial boilers
- Agricultural tractors & machinery
- Boats & vessels operating within inland waterways
- Rail, haulage & transport
- Portable generator at events & festivals
- Construction equipment & machinery
- Industrial trucks & tankers

Benefits of HVO

ENVIRONMENTALLY FRIENDLY, SUSTAINABLE & BIODEGRADABLE

Made from sustainable and renewable raw materials, HVO reduces greenhouse emissions by as much as 90%.

EXCELLENT COLD WEATHER PERFORMANCE

Higher cetane number (up to 90) and low cloud point provides better starting performance, clean combustion and less chance of waxing in extreme temperatures.

ALTERNATIVE CLEAN SOLUTION

Zero FAME, sulphur and fossil content. Free from aromatics and metals.

LONG STORAGE SHELF LIFE

Improved safety, shelf life and storage compared to regular diesel, therefore reducing the need for regular testing.

DROP-IN REPLACEMENT FOR REGULAR DIESEL & GAS OIL

Meets EN15940 standard for paraffinic fuels, ASTM D975 and the Fuel Quality Directive 2009/30/EC Annex II.

HIGH FLASHPOINT

Improved safety, storage and handling compared to regular diesel.
